

I can understand that Sinclair Broadcasting feels a responsibility to pay the Republican party back for the favor done for them when the FCC relaxed the rules governing station ownership, but there is a limit. Sinclair,s decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary just days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation and why we need to strengthen the ownership rules.

This is also a good example of just what ends der Party will go to favor another oil buddy and vise versa.

It will be another erosion of the Democratic process seemingly sanctioned by the Religious Right.

Thank You
